PHOTO MACROS

Typography applied over photos à la tumblr style. The two photos on the right I took using my Canon 60D; the photo on the left I found online and manipulated.

TYPOGRAPHY

Some typography that I did just for fun. Right, a "study guide" for the setting of polyphonic mass. Above, an exercise in combining fonts.

“ T A O ”

These are a couple mockups for an upcoming EP by a friend, who hasn't decided on the ATO or TAO moniker. Just playing around with what would look “album art cool” and what I think would look awesome printed on a CD. The photos are of the Berkeley pier, taken on my Canon 60D, and of Earth, found online.

R&D AT BERKELEY

Some identity designs for a club my friend recently started on campus, for use on the club's website. I also design the club website (below), but it is not yet done and not live yet. Still, a very simple coming soon page is up at rnd.berkeley.edu

Design. Engineer. Build.

Welcome to Research & Development at Berkeley, where ideas and designs meet with soldering guns and raw material. If you can design it, you can build it.

“ T W I L I G H T ” POSTER REDESIGN

A quick re-imagining of the Twilight movie posters. This was part of an interview exercise, where I was told to remix a poorly done movie poster quickly.
